Balloons are the answer to making any event special, creating an impact or raising awareness. They are recognised as a cost-effective way to create eye-catching and effective displays, and as a giveaway to customers they represent low-cost advertising for you.

Whatever your idea, Afrox can offer you the solution. Afrox offers a variety of balloons as part of their offer. Latex balloons will float for six to eight hours whereas self-sealing metallic foil balloons should last several days.

It will take one person approximately two hours to inflate 500 balloons. Latex balloons fitted with plastic valves and foil balloons with self-seal valves are quicker to fill. Using balloon clips (101-545) also saves time.

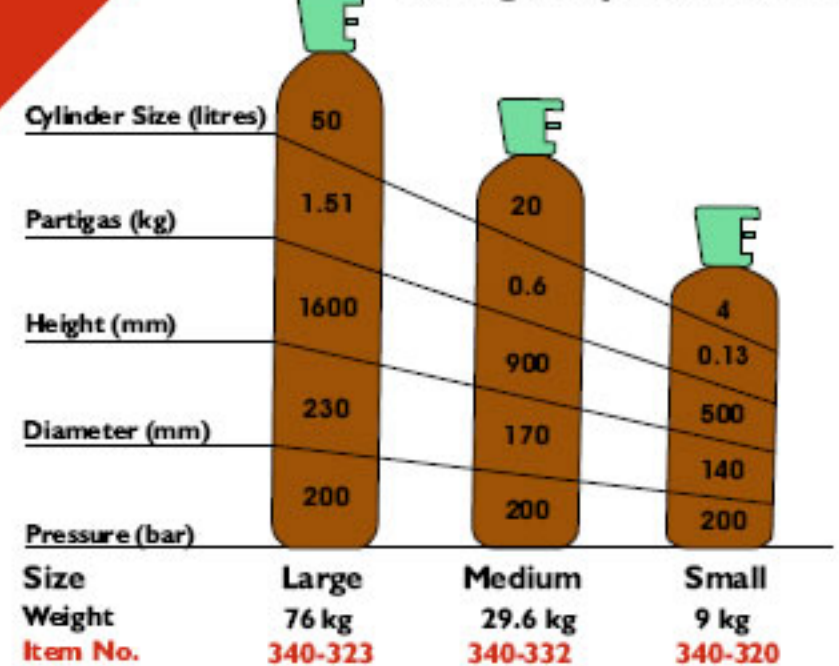

Partigas cylinders come in three sizes. To work out the size of the cylinder you require, you need to answer a few simple questions:

- What type of balloons do you want to use?
- What size of balloons do you want to use?
- How many balloons do you want to inflate?

Approximate number of balloons

Partigas Cylinder facts

Using the diagrams, you can determine the most appropriate cylinder for your needs. Note that the diagrams show the approximate number of balloons that can be filled. Numbers will vary according to balloon manufacturer and the shape of the balloon.

It is very important not to over-inflate your balloons. For instance, if you inflate a 300 mm balloon to 375 mm, you will use almost twice as much gas.

Filling balloons is quick and simple with an Afrox inflator.

Depending on your requirements, an inflator can be purchased or rented.

Renting an inflator is in the form of paying a refundable deposit.
